

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ELDON JAMES TO INTRODUCE SERIESLOCK™ AT MD&M WEST

The newest innovation in quick disconnect couplers.

DENVER, COLORADO, February 1, 2018– Eldon James Corporation will present SeriesLock™ the newest innovation in quick disconnect couplers at the M&M West show, Booth# 680, in Anaheim, CA on February 6, 2018.

The unique Spring-Free Flow Path™ coupler allows a larger volume of fluid or air to pass through optimizing the flow, reducing restriction, turbidity, foaming and bubbles.

Three body sizes are available to accommodate barb sizes ranging from 1/8" ID to 3/4" ID Tubing.

The new product was born from customer feedback. Customers asked for a product that could be disconnected easily with one hand while wearing gloves. They also wanted assurance that the product would not accidentally disconnect when dropped or bumped.

SeriesLock™

"We sought to design an attractive and ergonomic product that customers would consider an enhancement to their device, while maximizing the flow, a design criteria for all Eldon James products." states Marcia Coulson, President of Eldon James.

Product Features

- Spring-free Flow Path
- The safety slide release features an ergonomic design, allowing easy opening even when wearing gloves, and eliminates accidental disconnects.
- The superior single barb technology is proven to be more reliable in pressure and pull off tests.
- Non-Magnetic Springs for MRI Compatibility
- Audible Click Confirms Correct Connection
- Recessed Mating Features Protect Contact Surfaces
- Cleanroom manufacturing, Gamma Stability and Autoclavable
- Compatibility to Competitive Products – Coming Soon

Eldon James introduces the product line in Polypropylene and PVDF, the two materials most popular with customers seeking purity and chemical resistance.
